Quality Systems to ISO 9001

In an increasingly competitive market internationally recognised quality system certification and verification is being demanded from manufacturers, distributors and others through the supply chain. The demand is coming from the UK, European, Middle East and wider territories. ISO 9001 is an internationally recognised scheme that demonstrates consistent standards applicable to your business management, production and delivery processes.

Using the years of experience gained in the Fire Safety industry IFC Certification Ltd (IFCC) is a leading provider of management system certification and verification. The IFC Group approach focuses on reducing your risk and improving business performance based on your business needs.

ISO 9001 provides a framework for the development, operation and maintenance of quality management systems. The standard provides guidance and tools for companies and organisations who want to ensure that their products and services consistently meet customer requirements, and that quality is consistently improved. It can be used by any organisation, large or small, regardless of its field of activity.

IFC Certification provides certification of quality management systems for manufacturers, installers, fire risk assessors and other professionals operating in the fire protection industry. In providing this service, IFCC is offering experience in management system certification and years of experience with a wealth of expertise gained in the fire protection market.

ISO 9001 is recognised worldwide.

Based on the breadth of experience within IFC group and our experience in Fire Safety Engineering our clients and their customers can feel confident that, by achieving successful certification through IFCC, their fire related products and services will meet the needs of the fire industry and end users.

The IFCC online register provides the supply chain with information about IFCC certified companies and their scope of certification. These certified companies are listed in our online register at www.ifccertification.com
